

Ovzon receives 1.04 billion SEK order from the Swedish Defence Materiel Administration (FMV)

Ovzon has today received an order at a value of 1.04 billion SEK (~110 MUSD) from the Swedish Defence Materiel Administration (FMV). The order is for the company's integrated SATCOM solution and includes satellite network services, mobile satellite terminals and dedicated customer support. The service will run for 24 months with delivery starting in June 2025.

The order includes Ovzon's SATCOM service 'Hero' based on third-party satellite capacity, as well as a large number of mobile satellite terminals from Ovzon's product portfolio developed for both manned and unmanned missions. The order value for mobile satellite terminals amounts to 220 MSEK. One third of the terminals will be delivered immediately, the rest gradually. The satellite network services part of the order is both a renewal and an expansion of the contract signed on September 6, 2024.

"We are honored by the trust that Swedish Defence Materiel Administration (FMV) is placing in us and we are committed to deliver on our customer promise. This is Ovzon's largest order to date – a clear validation that our Swedish technology meets the most critical operational needs. This order allows us to accelerate in scaling our company and become even more relevant in our key markets", says Per Norén, CEO of Ovzon.
