

GreenGold Takes First Step Toward Carbon Credits from its Forests in Sweden

GreenGold has entered into an agreement to generate and deliver carbon credits from its production forests in the north of Sweden. Through this initiative, the company takes an active role in developing both the design and implementation of carbon credits from Swedish production forests.

This step builds on the success of our UK operations, where earlier this year we launched our first afforestation project and secured our first carbon-credit agreement.

Revenues from carbon credits are expected further into the future. However, this represents additional recognition of our sustainable, value-creating forest management approach and aligns with our long-term strategy of land multi-use and revenue diversification.
