COMMENTS FROM THE CEO

2024 starts with important milestones achieved

In the first quarter of 2024, we took several major steps forward in our main project TOL2. In the GLP toxicology study, which is crucial to the project, we were able to establish in January, in a preliminary report from our contracted partner, that the drug candidate was well tolerated at the high dose tested. No adverse events were observed during either the treatment or follow-up periods following intravenous administration of the drug candidate. The positive result fully supports the further development of TOL2 and the submission of a clinical trial application in patients with myasthenia gravis. The outcome of the study means that during the quarter we took a critical step closer to the first clinical trial in patients with this autoimmune disease.

At the end of January, Toleranzia held a scientific advisory meeting with the Paul Ehrlich Institute (PEI), Germany's medical regulatory authority. In March, a generally positive final report was received from the meeting. The PEI's response means that Toleranzia has received positive feedback on the TOL2 program from the authorities in Sweden, Denmark and Germany, the three countries where the clinical trial in patients with myasthenia gravis is planned to be conducted. Like the Swedish and Danish regulatory authorities, the PEI provided broad support for the TOL2 program development plan and the planned Phase I/IIa clinical trial. In addition to valuable advice on the clinical trial, the PEI provided valuable input on the design of the clinical trial application that is currently being prepared.

In parallel, work is ongoing to scale up the formulation process to produce approximately 3,000 packs of sterile, GMP-grade lyophilized TOL2 for the upcoming clinical trials. The collaboration with the contract manufacturer, which started at the end of 2023, is progressing according to plan.

Toleranzia recently received a loan commitment of SEK 20 million through an agreement with Flerie Invest AB. The agreement, which entered into force on May 1 with a term of 12 months, was signed on market terms and runs without collateral with an interest rate amounting to a maximum of nine hundred and ninety thousand SEK.

With important milestones achieved during the period, in particular the positive result from the GLP toxicology study and the favorable regulatory interactions, we are soon ready to initiate our first clinical study of TOL2 in patients with myasthenia gravis. The loan commitment of SEK 20 million is a significant addition that reassuringly strengthens the capital base for the start of the study.

ABOUT TOLERANZIA

General information about the business

Toleranzia AB (publ) (556877-2866) is a Swedish biotechnology company listed on Nasdaq First North. The company develops drugs that harness the power of the immune system to treat rare autoimmune diseases. The drugs, which target the cause of the disease, can alleviate or cure the disease and not, like current treatments, just reduce the symptoms. They have the potential to be the first long-acting or curative treatments that act specifically on the underlying cause of the rare autoimmune disease they are developed for. Toleranzia's main focus is the autoimmune nerve and muscle disease myasthenia gravis, for which the Company is developing the drug candidate TOL2. In addition, Toleranzia is working on the autoimmune blood vessel disease ANCA vasculitis, for which the Company is developing the drug candidate TOL3. Both diseases are so-called rare diseases where so-called orphan drugs can be developed and where there is a great medical need and a large market potential.
