

All Test Easy AB changes company name to IPO Invest Sweden AB

After the board meeting of All Test Easy AB on the first week of this October, the company announced and changed its company name to IPO Invest Sweden, reflecting the company's current business fields.

All Test Easy AB has previously focused on research, sales and distribution of innovative medical diagnostic products and services. Based on current market demand and our expertise, we are expanding our focus on consulting, ownership, financing and investment services in addition to biomedical investments this year. In order to better represent the company's operations, it is decided to change the company name to IPO Invest Sweden AB.

IPO Invest Sweden AB invests in companies with a low market capitalization on the Swedish market and provides them with attractive market expansion and other effective consulting services. The company's operations also include financing and acquiring these listed companies and thereby promoting the company's growth in a rapid manner.
