

Maven Wireless receives product approval and order for train repeaters worth SEK 3.4 million

The Swiss train manufacturer Stadler Rail approves the Maven Wireless TOR repeater product for cellular coverage on board their KISS train family and at the same time orders 15 pieces of TOR for trains to the end customer Transito in Sweden.

Transito has a frame agreement where an additional 60 KISS trains can be ordered configured with Maven Wireless TOR. At the same time, the TOR product is now available as an option for other customers of Stadler's KISS trains. The deals for Stadler Rail are done together with Maven Wireless' Swiss partner Strapag.
