"Prepared for continued strong growth"

Read Aktiespararna's Q1 analysis of Soltech, which justifies a value of SEK 35–41 for the Soltech share.

Aktiespararna also believes that Soltech has started the year strongly despite a quarter which was characterized by tough external conditions and, above all, Aktiespararna view the sharply increasing organic growth positively.

They also mention the European Commission's recently presented solar energy strategy, which among other things means a doubling of the establishment rate of solar energy solutions. This suggests that Soltech, and the solar industry in general, is facing strong growth in the coming years.
