Goodbye Kansas Studios secures additional Immersive Experience order from existing client

Goodbye Kansas Studios has won a new order for an immersive installation, as the result of a successful collaboration on a prior project. The studio business yet again demonstrates its ability to deliver on customers' expectations and to win repeat business. The extensive VFX requirements for the production include photo realistic creature and FX simulation content. The order value amounts to SEK 8 million and production will continue until Q4 2025.

"This order reflects the momentum we are currently building in immersive video productions. It is pleasing to see that we continue winning projects for this new business segment on top of the significant gaming orders that we have recently secured. Coming from a returning client, this order further solidifies Goodbye Kansas' reputation for delivering quality, innovation and excellence. We remain focused on satisfying customer expectations through our outstanding talents and technology," said Thomas Lindgren, CEO of Goodbye Kansas Group.
