

PRESS RELEASE 11.06.2025

Norwegian Stabil joins XPartners

XPartners continues its Nordic growth journey and now welcomes the Norwegian company Stabil AS to the group. Stabil provides engineering consultancy services in structural engineering for new construction and renovation projects involving steel, precast concrete, cast-in-place concrete, and timber. Stabil's entry into the group strengthens XPartners' geographical presence in Norway.

Stabil currently has around 55 employees and primarily collaborates with developers, contractors, and precast factories. The company builds long-term client relationships based on trust, specialization, and strong execution. Stabil operates across Norway, with offices in Revetal (outside Tønsberg), Ålesund, Fredrikstad, Oslo, Voss, and Tvedestrand. By combining technical expertise with commercial understanding, Stabil helps clients execute complex construction projects with high quality, safety, and efficiency – from planning to completion.

"Stabil has a strong position in the Norwegian market, with deep expertise and a clear focus on community-building projects. They strengthen our offering in several key areas and bring valuable experience that will benefit the entire group. We are very pleased to welcome them to XPartners," says Sonny Mirborn, CEO of XPartners.

"We are very excited to become part of XPartners. To take the next step in our growth journey, we now gain new opportunities, access to a broader client network, and extended collaboration with skilled people. This benefits both our clients and our talented employees. XPartners gives us the right conditions to continue growing, without losing our customer focus or independence. We look forward to the journey ahead as part of the XPartners family," says Håvar Brynildsrud, CEO of Stabil AS.
