Projkon joins XPartners – strengthening the group’s offering in infrastructure, energy and environment

XPartners continues its growth in Sweden and now welcomes Projkon to the group. The acquisition enhances the group’s expertise in construction processes related to infrastructure and energy – areas where demand for qualified consulting services is strong and growing.

Founded in 2018, Projkon is a fast-growing consultancy with approximately 40 employees and headquarters in Norrköping. The company also has local offices in Örebro, Bollnäs, and Nyköping, along with an extensive subcontractor network. Projkon provides specialist services in design, construction and project management, inspections, energy optimization, permitting, procurement, surveying, and environmental consulting.

“Projkon is a focused and dynamic player with strong capabilities in infrastructure and energy projects. Their momentum and broad offering align well with XPartners. This acquisition strengthens our presence in central Sweden and creates new opportunities for collaboration across our group,” says Sonny Mirborn, CEO of XPartners.

The company’s clients primarily include municipalities, property companies, government agencies, and energy utilities.

“Becoming part of XPartners is an important step for us. It gives us access to a wide network of specialist companies, more collaboration opportunities, and new capabilities – while continuing to run our business the way we know works. It gives us the strength to keep growing,” says Carl-Johan Bondesson, CEO of Projkon.
