Cooperation between NOTE and STT deepens

NOTE Xperi in Lund has again been entrusted by STT Care to develop and manufacture their new generation of alarm telephones. STT Care is the market leader in this field, and has achieved major global export successes. The order is worth roughly MSEK 100.

STT manufactures alarm, health care and business systems for the elderly care market. The cooperation between NOTE Xperi and STT has been ongoing for many years, and the new order will mean deeper cooperation between the companies.

"We take it as a great vote of confidence from STT that we will be involved in both the development and the production of the new security alarm," says NOTE Key Account Manager Thomas Bengtsson. "STT has set extremely strict requirements in terms of delivery reliability and product quality, and our excellent cooperative arrangement has been a vital factor in our ability to meet those requirements" concludes Thomas.

"We view our renewed cooperation with NOTE Xperi as an important component in the battle for market share. Together with them, we will be able to offer products that represent the highest quality and best value on the market," says Michael Wiegert.
