Eva Rising new Nocom CFO

Eva Rising is now the chief financial officer at Nocom AB (publ). She previously served in a similar capacity at Fotoquick AB (publ), listed on Nya Marknaden. Eva Rising has solid experience in economy and finance. She has held a number of senior management positions, including the position of Scandinavian site manager for the American firm APW Enclosures AB. She succeeds Stefan Ström, who became Nocom's CEO at the beginning of May.

"The appointment entails an expansion and distinct strengthening of group management. We can now increase the tempo of the group's long-term strategic development," says Stefan Ström, CEO at Nocom.

"Eva has expertise and experience that will benefit the group. As the CEO, I can now concentrate on taking advantage of the existing potential for profitability improvements and optimizing the group's financial structure for future growth."

"Nocom is an exciting company, which in recent years has managed to combine substantial growth with uninterrupted profitability and strong finances. I'm looking forward to taking part in the group's continued development," says Eva Rising, CFO.
