

Saab doubles their XMReality Remote Guidance license holding

As communicated back in October 2020, Saab who serves the global market with services and solutions within military defense and civil security, and XMReality signed a three-year contract. Saab has now ordered additional licenses as their use is increasing. The additional licenses will double the number of licenses that Saab holds.

“Saab is a great company with a long history of excelling at their work with regulatory and security requirements as well as traceability. We are very happy to be able to contribute to their future success and value creation in this environment. Even if the main portion of the Saab contract is a fix fee, we really welcome the additional licenses and the additional use. This is a very important relationship to us, and our ambition is to continue to increase the value we add to Saab.”, says Andreas Jonsson, CBDO at XMReality.
