Senior managers buy shares in NOTE

In February 2017, within the framework of an incentive program, NOTE's largest shareholder Creades AB issued a total of 577 453 call options to senior managers in NOTE. Each call option gave the holder the right to purchase a share in NOTE at a price of SEK 17.58 in cash during the period 25 October–8 November 2017. The options were priced on market terms and the program does not imply any dilution of other owners' NOTE shareholdings.

All participants have now bought shares and called for redemption of the remaining options. In total, the participants purchased 196,000 shares, which means that they together reinvested more than the resulting profit after tax in the incentive program.
