

Dutch consultancy Flux Partners joins XPartners

XPartners continues to develop its presence in the Netherlands and welcomes Flux Partners to the group. The company provides advisory and project management services to leading clients in energy and infrastructure, with particular strength in technically complex tenders. Flux Partners is the second company to join XPartners in the Netherlands, further strengthening the group's local platform.

Flux Partners was founded in 2014 and is headquartered in Diemen outside Amsterdam. With around 100 employees, the company provides tender management to contractors and clients in technically complex tenders within energy and infrastructure, including offshore wind, power generation, tunnels, railways and roads. This is complemented by services in project management and control, contract management and procurement, sustainability and circularity, and stakeholder management and environment. Revenue amounted to EUR 13 million in 2025.

"We continue to build our presence in the Netherlands and are very proud that Flux Partners has chosen to join the group. It is a well-run company with solid expertise and a strong market position. Flux Partners shares our view on how a successful consultancy should be built, with skilled specialists, clear business accountability and a strong entrepreneurial spirit. That makes them a natural and very welcome addition to XPartners," says Sonny Mirborn, CEO of XPartners Group.

The team has participated in more than 700 tenders over more than ten years, with a win rate of above 55 percent. Clients are primarily leading organisations within infrastructure, energy production, grid infrastructure, and the public sector.

"For many years we have worked closely with the companies driving the energy transition and infrastructure development in the Netherlands and across Europe, and seen first-hand how important it is to have the right partner by your side. Joining XPartners gives us the opportunity to continue developing Flux Partners with our own identity and expertise, while gaining access to a broad network of specialist companies and new collaborative opportunities. That creates real opportunities for both our employees and clients," says Michel Verlaan, CEO of Flux Partners.
