

Swedish company Brand och Riskteknik joins XPartners

XPartners continues to strengthen its technical offering and now welcomes Brand och Riskteknik Sverige AB to the group. The acquisition brings specialist expertise in fire protection engineering, risk management, and construction management for the property sector.

Founded in 2017 and headquartered in Lund, Brand och Riskteknik has five employees and offers services in building-related fire protection design, fire safety installations, CAD and BIM, and risk management for flammable and explosive materials (ATEX). The company also performs risk assessments related to urban planning. Its clients primarily include property developers, real estate owners, contractors, installation firms, industrial companies, and architects.

“Brand och Riskteknik adds cutting-edge expertise in an area that is critical for safe and sustainable construction. Their technical know-how and deep local market insight offer strong potential for collaboration across the group,” says Sonny Mirborn, CEO of XPartners.

With a strong entrepreneurial drive and an established network in southern Sweden, the acquisition opens new opportunities for collaboration with several companies and clients within XPartners.

“Becoming part of XPartners gives us long-term stability and new opportunities for growth. We value the close relationships we have with our clients and are pleased to continue developing in a broader context, without losing what makes us unique,” says Eric Månsson, CEO of Brand och Riskteknik.
