

Raketech updates on Q1 2026 reporting date and communication format

Raketech will publish its Q1 2026 report on April 29, 2026, at 08:00 CEST.

Instead of hosting a traditional conference call in connection with the report release, CEO Johan Svensson will participate in an interview with DNB Carnegie Investment Bank on May 6, 2026, where he will discuss the results and key developments. The interview will be made available to investors following the session.

Going forward, Raketech will adopt this format for its financial reporting, replacing traditional conference calls. This approach simplifies communication around the reports and provides a more streamlined way of presenting the company's performance, while ensuring that investors continue to receive relevant and sufficient information.

Further details regarding access to the interview will be communicated in connection with the publication of the Q1 2026 report.
