

Daniel Kjørberg Siraj appointed Chairman in Presis Infra

Daniel Kjørberg Siraj has been appointed Chairman of the Ratos Company Presis Infra and will assume the position as of 10 April, 2026. He succeeds the current Chairman, Jacob Landén.

“We are very pleased that Daniel has agreed to assume chairmanship of Presis Infra. He brings more than two decades of executive and board-level experience from Nordic infrastructure, construction, and real estate. With a background as CEO of OBOS Group and board positions in both listed companies and industry organizations, he brings a strong track record of strategic leadership, competent governance and long-term value creation,” says Gustaf Salford, President and CEO Ratos.

“I am truly looking forward to taking on this assignment. Presis Infra has an important societal mission in safeguarding our fundamental infrastructure, supported by a solid and long-term owner and, not least, a highly capable management team and organization. All three of these factors are essential to successfully delivering on the ambitious strategy set out for the company’s future growth and development,” says Daniel Kjørberg Siraj.
