Fasadgruppen joins the Science Based Targets initiative

As an important step in its sustainability agenda and aim to demonstrate climate leadership in its industry, Fasadgruppen has committed to set near- and long-term company-wide emission reductions in line with science-based net-zero with the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi).

SBTi is a global body enabling businesses to set ambitious emissions reductions targets in line with the latest climate science. It is focused on accelerating companies across the world to halve emissions before 2030 and achieve net-zero emissions before 2050.

Following the commitment, Fasadgruppen will develop and submit its targets, including a long-term net-zero target, to the SBTi for approval. By committing to set a long-term net-zero target, Fasadgruppen becomes part of the UNFCCC Race to Zero campaign. The new and more ambitious targets will once approved replace Fasadgruppen's existing 2030 reduction targets for scope 1, 2 and parts of scope 3.

Through its services, Fasadgruppen has a direct positive impact on the energy performance of buildings, which account for a substantial part of the world's emissions. With the new targets, Fasadgruppen will be able to accelerate its work to reduce emissions throughout its value chain, where procured materials constitute a major part.

Martin Jacobsson, CEO of Fasadgruppen said: "Through the commitment to align with 1.5°C and net-zero, Fasadgruppen has responded to the SBTi's urgent call for corporate climate action. As a market leader in façade works, we must be at the forefront in contributing to a sustainable world, and I look forward to working together with all our subsidiaries and business partners to achieve net-zero."

The SBTi is a partnership between Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP), the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC), World Resources Institute (WRI) and the World Wide Fund for Nature (WWF). More information can be found at <https://sciencebasedtargets.org/>.
