OEM International appoints Henrik Forsberg Schoultz as President and CEO

The Board of OEM International AB ("OEM") has appointed Henrik Forsberg Schoultz as President and CEO, effective 1 January 2027. He succeeds Jörgen Zahlin, who has served as CEO of OEM International for 27 years and has been with the Group for a total of 41 years, and will remain as senior advisor during 2027.

Henrik has been Deputy CEO of OEM since April 2026, responsible for group strategy, the acquisition agenda and the development of the business portfolio. He has extensive experience of long-term value creation in acquisition-driven companies, with a strong focus on entrepreneur-led companies in decentralised environments. Prior to OEM, he was President and CEO of CellMark AB, has held senior leadership and investment roles at Neudi & Co and Nordstjernan, and started his career at McKinsey & Company.

Patrik Andersson, Chairman, says*: "I am pleased to appoint Henrik as CEO. During his time at OEM he has gained a thorough understanding of the business, its unique culture and what it takes to position the company for the future. He has the leadership and experience needed to guide OEM through its next phase of growth. On behalf of the Board, I would like to thank Jörgen Zahlin for his contributions over more than four decades in making OEM the company it is today."*

"It is a great honour to be entrusted with leading OEM. Jörgen and our employees have built a strong platform, with a close focus on customers and suppliers and a unique culture with its home in Tranås. We will preserve and build on that position, while further accelerating capital deployment and continuing to grow profitably across Europe." says Henrik Forsberg Schoultz

Jörgen Zahlin comments: "It has been a privilege to lead OEM and to work alongside so many dedicated colleagues and partners. I am proud of what we have achieved together and of the strong position OEM holds today. I wish Henrik every success in his new role and look forward to supporting him going forward."
