

We are pleased to welcome two new colleagues to Ortivus!

During February, we have strengthened our leadership team with Gabriel Åhbeck as Chief Technology Officer (CTO) and Emma Mattsson as Chief Marketing Officer (CMO). With Emma and Gabriel on board, we gain a powerful boost in our efforts towards innovation and growth within prehospital care.

Gabriel brings extensive experience in software development for medical device products, which will be a valuable addition to Ortivus' technological development. Emma, with her strong background in digital design and brand positioning, will lead Ortivus' expansion in key markets.

"We are pleased to welcome Gabriel and Emma to the team. Their expertise will play a crucial role in our ambition to digitalise prehospital care and improve patient outcomes globally." says CEO Gustaf Nordenhök.
