
Wästbygg Group appoints new Head of Investor Relations

Robin Sundin, currently Group Legal Counsel for Wästbygg Group, has been appointed new Head of Investor Relations. He will take up his combined position as Group Legal Counsel and Head of Investor Relations on the 19 September and will thus become a member of the group senior management.

Robin succeeds Marie Lindebäck, who has chosen to leave her position as Head of Investor Relations and deputy Head of Sustainability for new assignments outside the Wästbygg Group. Marie will remain working within the group during her notice period until March 2023 and ensure an orderly handover.

- I wish Marie the best of luck in the future and thank her for the work she has put in over the years with us. Robin is already well versed in our IR work, so now that Marie has chosen to leave, it naturally feels good that we have competence internally to continue driving our IR work forward, says Jonas Jönehall, president and CEO.
