

engcon has officially joined the UN Global Compact

As a further step in its sustainability journey, engcon, the leading global manufacturer of tiltrotators, has officially joined the United Nations Global Compact Initiative.

engcon is proud to announce that it has officially joined the United Nations Global Compact, the world's largest corporate sustainability initiative. The UN Global Compact invites companies to align their operations and strategies with 10 universally accepted human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption principles and to take action supporting UN goals and issues embodied by the Sustainable Development Goals.

"Joining the UN Global Compact is a natural step in engcon's sustainability journey. We're proud to join the thousands of other global companies which are committed to taking sustainable business action", says Krister Blomgren, CEO.

By joining the UN Global Compact, engcon reinforces its dedication to responsible business practices and sustainable growth. The company acknowledges the importance of its role in contributing to a more sustainable and inclusive global economy. engcon has already demonstrated its alignment with the principles by incorporating them into its Code of Conduct.

"We are committed to further integrate the principles of the Global Compact into our operations and working together with our suppliers and civil society to manage global challenges such as climate change, inequality and corruption", Krister Blomgren continues.

The company will submit annual progress reports to the UN Global Compact, detailing its advancements in these areas.

About the UN Global Compact

The UN Global Compact is a voluntary initiative that encourages businesses worldwide to adopt sustainable and socially responsible policies. It aims to align companies' strategies and operations with ten universally accepted principles in the areas of human rights, labor, environment, and anti-corruption. By doing so, it seeks to catalyze actions in support of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

The initiative is a collaboration between the United Nations and various stakeholders, including businesses, civil society organizations, and governments. The UN Global Compact offers resources and guidance to help companies integrate the initiative into their operations and strategies. Read more at www.unglobalcompact.org
