Clas Ohlson opens another store in Oslo

Clas Ohlson's new store in Fornebu, Oslo, opened this morning. The store is Clas Ohlson's 23rd store in Oslo and the surrounding area.

"The store looks fantastic, and it is clear that we have been eagerly awaited in the area. We are also very pleased to further strengthen our presence in Oslo," says Christian Egeland, Operations and Sales Manager.

Clas Ohlson's new store has a sales area of 932 square metres and is located at Fornebu Senter, which opened in 2013 on the site of the former airport, southwest of Oslo. Many new homes have been built in the area, and the new metro line is planned to be completed in the next few years.

"We are becoming more accessible in an area experiencing strong growth," says Christian Egeland.

The store opening is Clas Ohlson's second during the 2026/27 financial year, with a further three stores opening this autumn. Clas Ohlson now has a total of 251 stores.
