

engcon strengthens collaboration with OilQuick and Zero Degree in the DACH Region

Strömsund, September 7, 2026

engcon AB has entered into an agreement with OilQuick and Zero Degree that further strengthens the collaboration between the companies in the strategically important DACH market. As part of the agreement, OilQuick and Zero Degree will be granted exclusive rights to distribute engcon products in Germany, Austria, and Switzerland.

The purpose of the collaboration is to further strengthen engcon's market position in the region and accelerate the market penetration of tiltrotators in Europe's largest excavator market.

"The DACH region is a very exciting market and Europe's largest market for excavators. By deepening our collaboration with OilQuick and Zero Degree, we are creating strong conditions to accelerate the adoption of tiltrotators and strengthen our presence in the region," says Stig Engström, CEO of engcon AB.
