

Mycronic receives order for an SLX mask writer

Mycronic AB (publ) has received an order for a customized SLX mask writer from a new customer. The order value is in the range of USD 27-30 million. Delivery of the system is planned for 2028.

The SLX laser mask writer meets rising demand for photomasks for the semiconductor industry and a future need for replacement and modernization. Photomasks manufactured by laser mask writers are of high importance and account for a majority of all photomasks produced for semiconductor manufacturing. SLX is a modern and energy efficient mask writer based on the same technology as Mycronic's mask writers for displays.

"The SLX is a modern and stable platform, designed for high reliability and strong capabilities. With this order, we are further extending the platform, confirming our commitment to pushing performance. This delivery includes customized development, which explains the price level and delivery timeline," says Charlott Samuelsson, Senior Vice President Pattern Generators at Mycronic.

Mycronic's Pattern Generators division provides mask writers and metrology systems for display manufacturing and production of semiconductors.
