

QleanAir expands and strengthens the senior management team

QleanAir Holding AB (publ), the niche premium provider of clean indoor environment, announces appointment of Christina Lindstedt as new COO and Deputy CEO with accountability for strategic planning, operations, product development, and innovation. It is a new role in the company's executive management team. She will start her assignment on May 1, 2020.

We establish a new role to speed up the product development and innovation. Christina Lindstedt is appointed COO and deputy CEO. She has been a member of the board of QleanAir since 2016 and has extensive global strategic and operational experience from Electrolux and Sony Group. The last years Christina has worked as a board member and advisor to global B2B companies, among other things. She has a Master of Science in Business Administration and Economics from Gothenburg School of Economics and is a board member in Handicare Group AB (publ) and Scanfil Oyj (publ). Christina has informed the nomination committee in QleanAir that she is not available for re-election to the board after the appointment.

"I would like to welcome Christina Lindstedt to our management team. Christina's extensive operational experience from leading global corporations together with her strategic expertise from the board work in the company will constitute an excellent contribution to QleanAir in our future development", comments Andreas Göth, CEO QleanAir.

"Clean indoor air is a matter of the future. From my role as a board member, I already know QleanAir's activities well. I very much look forward to be a driving force in the work with the company's future growth, innovation and operations, together with the dynamic and successful team at QleanAir", comments Christina Lindstedt, coming COO and Deputy CEO QleanAir.
