MSAB (Micro Systemation AB, publ), a global leader in digital forensics technology, has received an order valued at SEK 25.7 million with a larger defense customer in Europe.

“This key military contract with one of Europe’s larger defense organizations confirms the strength of our forensic offering and the growing interest in our premium extraction tool, XRY Pro, in defense operations. It also validates our strategy to work closer with defense customers, and we expect more military organizations to invest in advanced mobile forensics in the coming years,” said Peter Gille, CEO of MSAB.

“This major win proves that our robust, global solutions deliver the exact support modern military operations demand” says Mårten Blixt, Chief Commercial Officer at MSAB.
