

Urologidagarna 2021: CoreTherm is an excellent option also on really large prostates.

During today's symposium "Size is not an issue" during the national Urologidagarna in Örebro, Dr Fredrik Stenmark, Kalmar, concluded that CoreTherm Concept is a suitable treatment for BPH patients with profoundly enlarged prostates. The long-term results are excellent.

During the symposium "Size is not an issue" at Urologidagarna in Örebro, Fredrik Stenmark presented his study where 570 CoreTherm-treated patients with prostate size greater than 80 ml have been followed for an average of 10.8 years. Only 12.5% had been surgically re-treated during the follow-up. The analysis shows that the long-term effect is independent of the patient's age vid of treatment but that the lowest re-treatment rate exists in the oldest population, over 80 years.

The conclusion is that CoreTherm Concept is an excellent option for patients with profoundly enlarged prostates with excellent long-term results. In addition, the treatment can be performed outpatiently without the need for surgical resources.

ProstaLund's CEO Johan Wennerholm comments: "It is very gratifying that Stenmark's CoreTherm research is highlighted at Sweden's most important urology meeting. For patients with very large glands, where otherwise a very resource-intensive and risky enucleation surgery is the alternative, CoreTherm is a particularly suitable and cost-effective treatment."
