

Divo expands customer portfolio with high-growth clients with substantial revenue growth

Divo is pleased to announce significant progress in its customer portfolio, including adding a customer with high growth potential and increased engagement from existing partners.

One notable addition is a Swiss client company that specializes in a cutting-edge loyalty app. The new customer has joined Divo with an initial MRR of $250. The new customer will grow with an estimated MRR of USD 4,000 in 2025. This collaboration underlines Divo's expertise in attracting forward-thinking companies that are ready for scalable success.

Furthermore, the company's commitment to supporting existing customers is exemplified by the ongoing success of the Swiss Army branch which recently contributed an additional USD 300 to MRR, and a framework agreement is in the pipeline. This reflects their continued confidence in our solutions and reinforces their value to our business.

"These recent developments reaffirm our mission to partner with high-growth businesses and support their success through innovative, tailored solutions," says Jon Levin, CEO of Divo Technologies.
