

iZafe Group is now also available on the fintech platform Eucaps.com

As part of the internationalization strategy, iZafe Group has entered into a collaboration with the fintech platform eucaps.com. This is to facilitate the dissemination of information and dialogue with existing shareholders and to be able to reach out to new investors outside Sweden's borders.

"Eucap's platform offers opportunities for us at iZafe Group to drive international interest in our share, while at the same time we can easily interact and keep our existing owners updated on our development," says Anders Segerström CEO of iZafe Group AB and continues: "The internationalization of our business has taken off and as a step in the process we want to offer better conditions for international investors to follow our company and our share, which hopefully means increased international attention and new investors."

Eucap's platform offers global transparency and market access for companies in the European small-cap segment, which means, among other things, that companies traded on the Swedish stock exchange First North become accessible to investors from all over Europe. Eucaps ensures that investors have full access to accurate information, reports, stock prices, ownership data, news, etc.

"We are happy that iZafe has chosen to grow with us. Our goal is to make the opportunities in the European small-cap market visible to investors from all over the world. At the same time, we want to prevent market manipulation and create better liquidity and pricing for these companies," says Henrik Wagenius, CEO and founder of Eucaps.
