

Netel signs contract with Green Mountain Data Centers for power installation

Netel's Norwegian company Nett-Tjenester has signed a contract for the design and installation of power systems for Green Mountain's data center in Enebakk, near Oslo.

Green Mountain's data center in Enebakk outside Oslo was inaugurated in 2020 and covers 75,000 square meters with a capacity of 95 MW. The facility has been expanded several times and when the expansion now continues, Nett-Tjenester has been commissioned to install high voltage systems, cable routing and control systems. The project includes the entire system from the 132 kV line, the substations and terminations in the data center. The project has already started and should be completed in 2026.

"We are very happy that Green Mountain, which stands for high security and sustainability, has chosen Nett-Tjenester as a supplier," says Jeanette Reuterskiöld, President and CEO of Netel. "In the spring, we made the strategic decision to expand our customer base in Norway to include industrial customers, and it is gratifying that we are now beginning to see the results of our expansion."
