Panzerdogs game update during ongoing $KOBAN community pre-sale

Fragbite Group AB's (publ) ("Fragbite Group") subsidiary Lucky Kat has announced updates to its flagship title Panzerdogs, including the in-game store. Updates will come into effect after the final step of the public $KOBAN launch which has started with Step 1 – discounted community pre-sale, currently live until this evening.

Lucky Kat has announced updates to game title Panzerdogs, the subsidiary's flagship title which is available to play both as a traditional game via PC and mobile, and as a web3 game on the Sui blockchain. On the day that $KOBAN is minted and released for trade on public exchanges, the game will be updated with a number of features:

- Updates to the integrated in-game store with implementation of $KOBAN, allowing players to buy items and NFTs directly with the token.
- Re-introduction of the PanzerPass, a seasonal battlepass now updated, the purchase of which allows players to advance in the game, unlock $KOBAN-themed rewards and compete in the game for a $KOBAN airdrop.
- Dynamic NFT equipment, allowing players to make changes to their already existing NFT avatars in the game.
- Staking: Players will be able to lock their $KOBAN in a vault to earn different kinds of rewards over time. The longer the player locks the tokens in the vault, the better the rewards.

The $KOBAN token launch is currently ongoing with Step 1 – the discounted community pre-sale, live until this afternoon. Shareholders owning more than 500 Fragbite Group shares who wish to participate can email info@fragbitegroup.com for instructions.
