

Christina Lindstedt is appointed CEO for QleanAir and replaces Andreas Göth on August 31, 2020

Andreas Göth, CEO for, QleanAir since 2018 and prior to that deputy CEO, COO and CFO from 2001, leaves the CEO position on his own initiative. He will transfer into an advisory role from August 31, 2020. The Board of Directors in QleanAir has appointed Christina Lindstedt, currently deputy CEO and COO, new CEO for QleanAir Holding AB from August 31, 2020.

Christina Lindstedt, 52 years old, is currently holding the position as Deputy CEO and COO in the company since May 2020. Christina Lindstedt was board member in QleanAir Holding AB from 2016 to 2020 when she was appointed deputy CEO and COO in the company. To QleanAir she brings extensive global operational and strategic experience from various international leadership roles at Electrolux and Sony Mobile, and as advisor and board member in global B2B-companies, among other things. Christina has a Master of Science in Business Administration and Economics from Gothenburg School of Economics and is a board member in Handicare Group AB (publ) and Scanfil Oyj (publ).

"The Board of Directors in QleanAir is happy to appoint Christina Lindstedt as the next CEO. We have had the advantage to watch Christina in both the board room and in the role as deputy CEO and COO. Christina is a very appreciated leader and has successfully helped several global B2B-companies. Christina is well suited to continue the development and execution of QleanAir's strategy with the ambition to be a global leader in the premium segment of air cleaning of indoor environments", comments Bengt Engström, Chairman of the Board.

"It is with great joy and pride that I take over the leadership in QleanAir. Clean indoor air is a highly important matter. I am very much looking forward to working together with the successful and passionate QleanAir team to continue to drive our global growth strategy and speed-up the business development. I'm convinced that the development of our society, after the latest dramatic situation, will increase demand for clean and quality assured indoor air", comments Christina Lindstedt, CEO.

The intention is that Andreas Göth, who leaves the CEO position on his own initiative will continue as senior advisor to the CEO during his notice period of six months. As an expression for the board of directors' appreciation of Andreas's achievements as CEO we would like to give him our very best recommendations in his future endeavors.
