

BeammWave's presentation at Aktiedagarna in Stockholm

On November 26, 2025, BeammWave participated in Aktiedagarna in Stockholm, where CEO Stefan Svedberg shared an update on the company's progress, customer activities, and the path towards volume production. He highlighted the rapidly exploding wireless data traffic and the increasing need for advanced radio architectures such as digital beamforming.

Stefan also commented on the strengthened team, the company's industrialization efforts, and the complementary partnership with Nitto Denko.

"Data traffic is increasing steadily, and this development makes digital beamforming inevitable. We've achieved the technical breakthroughs – now it's all about scaling with the right partners and a strong team to reach volume production at speed," says Stefan Svedberg, CEO at BeammWave.
