

Finnish cost management consultancy Costa Laskenta joins XPartners

XPartners continues to develop its Finnish platform and welcomes Costa Laskenta to the group. The company adds specialist expertise in cost estimation and cost management, a discipline that has so far been missing within the group and that is increasingly in demand.

Costa was founded in 2019 and is headquartered in Helsinki, with additional offices in Jyväskylä, Joensuu and Seinäjoki. The company specialises in quantity surveying and cost estimation and supports clients through all phases of construction projects, from early budget estimates to tender estimating and cost monitoring during construction. The company employs approximately 20 specialists, and revenue amounted to EUR 1.8 million in 2025.

"Costa brings specialist expertise in cost estimation and cost management that we have previously lacked within the group. It is a discipline of growing importance to both developers and contractors, and Costa delivers it with high precision in the Finnish market. The company fits well into our Finnish platform and creates clear opportunities for collaboration with several of our companies," says Vesa Koskelainen, Managing Director of XPartners Finland.

The company's clients span the entire construction sector. Contractors engage Costa primarily for quantity surveying and tender estimating, while developers seek early budget estimates and ongoing cost management. A central part of the offering is the company's cost information model, which links cost estimation with BIM and keeps cost data up to date throughout the project.

"We have built Costa into a strong specialist in precise tender pricing and quantity surveying, proactive cost management and cost information modelling. As part of XPartners, we see great potential in collaborating with the other companies in the group and reaching new types of assignments, while continuing to develop our own way of working and our offering," says Ville Jehkonen, CEO of Costa Laskenta.
