HAKI SAFETY STARTS COLLABORATING WITH PINPOINT ESTIMATES FOR COLLECTION OF INVESTOR EXPECTATIONS

HAKI Safety has started a collaboration with Pinpoint Estimates, a platform that compiles retail investors' financial expectations of listed companies' results. The platform collects estimates from all types of investors. Based on these, a weighted Pinpoint consensus is created ahead of the companies' quarterly reports. Retail investors get access to the estimates free of charge based on the principle of submitting an estimate to see them all.

Sverker Lindberg, President and CEO of HAKI Safety, says: "HAKI Safety is a group in development and change. Having transformed from operating as a conglomerate to a focused industrial group with the name change to HAKI Safety in December 2023, we need to increase knowledge about our company and market towards retail investors. Together with Pinpoint, our ambition is to increase investor engagement and interest in HAKI Safety while at the same time receiving information about the market expectations of retail investors".
