

Quickbit Pay is launched - positive reactions and great interest

Today Quickbit announces that Quickbit's in-house developed B2B product Quickbit Pay is launched and live. Quickbit Pay has received very positive reactions from potential customers and there is a lot of interest in the market for the payment solution.

Quickbit has for a period worked hard to develop and complete its in-house developed B2B product Quickbit Pay. Now the product is live and has received very positive reactions from potential customers.

Quickbit Pay is a unique high-quality crypto payment solution with the functions of being able to both take payments via the Quickbit App and external crypto wallets while achieving more secure transactions. Quickbit has so far seen great interest in the product and sees a high growth potential in a wide range of different customers globally.

With the launch of Quickbit Pay, Quickbit sees opportunities for both better customer relations and stronger market contact. Quickbit will also be able to strengthen its existing margins and improve profitability in the long term.

"I am very happy that we have finally launched Quickbit Pay. We have worked hard on this unique and in-house developed product. Now we will be able to reach new customers and old customers with higher quality, improve profitability and create completely new market synergies. We have so far seen a lot of interest in Quickbit Pay which I am sure will pave the way for a bright future. Quickbit Pay is the solution that can create completely new conditions, safer payments, better margins and higher quality in acting on the great demand we have historically addressed with good results. It is simply the next generation solution. A big day for Quickbit", says Daniel Sonesson, CEO Quickbit.
