ADDvise extends the agreement with Laborie at a value of SEK 48 million

ADDvise Group's subsidiary Sonesta Medical AB extends the agreement with Laborie Medical Technologies ("Laborie"). The agreement is giving Laborie the right to sell Sonesta Medical's urology- and gynecology patient positioning equipment and video fluoroscopy tables worldwide, with an exclusive right to distribute in USA and some European countries. Laborie commits to a minimum volume of SEK 48 million. The term of the agreement is two years. The total value of the orders during the term of the agreement is at least SEK 48 million.

Laborie is a leading global developer, manufacturer and distributor of medical technology and consumables used for diagnostic and therapeutic solutions in urology, urogynecology and gastroenterology. Laborie is a company based in Canada owned by Patricia Industries and a part of Swedish Investor AB.
