ADDvise received order worth SEK 9 million

ADDvise Group AB's subsidiary Labrum AB has received an order from Takura AB, a company specialized in clinical phase cell therapy, worth approximately SEK 9 million. The order involves construction of a cleanroom including laboratory equipment to the production facility for cell therapy that Takura AB is going to build, through its subsidiary CellCo and Norrsken Foundation. MRC Systems FZE, ADDvise's latest acquisition, is going to deliver the cleanroom for the project to Labrum AB. Delivery of the order is planned to take place during the fourth quarter 2021.

- We are pleased to see the first cooperation between MRC Systems and our subsidiary Labrum AB after the acquisition of MRC Systems, says Rikard Akhtarzand, CEO ADDvise Group, in a comment to the order.
