Korean Partner is First to Launch with Polygiene Stays Fresh Technology in Combination with Odor Crunch

Polygiene - the world leader in stays fresh technologies is for the first time launching unique performance socks, treated with the Polygiene Stays Fresh combination product, with Korean partner VTINON.

VTINON

This is a new combination of Polygiene's classic Stays Fresh Technology and Polygiene Odor Crunch that doubles the effect of the treatments as it addresses both odors coming from bacterial growth as well as surrounding sources. The launch of the socks, in both women and men's styles, will be online during September 2019.

"We are excited to see these premium socks with the Polygiene combination product be the first to launch - with a number of brands to follow. VTINON has produced 200,000 pairs with the combination product this year and will continue expanding next year with up to a tenfold increase in volumes", states Ulrika Björk, CEO of Polygiene.
