MilDef launches new business unit and consolidates recently acquired Defcon Solutions with MilDef Sweden

With the aim to strengthen MilDef Sweden and the integration company Defcon Solutions acquired in 2021, MilDef Business Unit Sweden is now launched. This coordinates the business both in relation to government and corporate customers on the Swedish market and maximizes synergies between products, services and digitalization.

As MilDef expands both organically as well as through acquisitions there's a continuous review of the Group's business units and processes, in order to increase efficiency and customer benefit. By merging MilDef Sweden with Defcon Solutions into one business unit, with a single management team and a common operating model, the power of the overall offering in products, services and digitalisation is strengthened.

"Our new business unit is a response to the security policy question posed these days – how are we going to protect our society from existing and new threats? This business unit enables a better and more complete offering in products, services and digitalization for the Swedish market, including security of supply. While providing our Swedish customers world-leading technology and integration we are strengthening our position as a complete supplier of mission-critical systems. Our intention is to further grow the Swedish business unit with key capabilities, and to accelerate growth in our home market," says Björn Karlsson, CEO MilDef Group.

Head of Business Unit Sweden will be Evelina Hedskog, earlier Chief Business Development Officer MilDef Group.
