MilDef wins additional orders from BAE Systems Bofors worth 18 MSEK

Following the 10-year framework agreement with BAE Systems Bofors signed in February and the order of SEK 52 million communicated in April, another additional order has been signed for IT equipment for the Archer artillery system. The orders include computers and switches worth SEK 18 million. Deliveries will start in 2024.

The orders now won are a natural continuation of the cooperation and concern additional orders for IT equipment for the toughest conditions and most challenging environments, which prevent information from being interrupted, intercepted or disrupted.

“These additional orders follow after the latest and larger order of SEK 52 million and are an expression of our increasingly close cooperation and the growing interest in the Archer artillery system,” says Daniel Ljunggren, President and CEO of MilDef Group.

BAE Systems Bofors is part of BAE Systems, which has operations in the US, Sweden and the UK. BAE Systems Bofors manufactures artillery and gun systems and ammunition for land and naval applications. These include anti-aircraft gun systems and platform-mounted firing systems.
