Polygiene goes live again at Outdoor Retailer

Learn more about the complete gear protection and freshness from Polygiene at the booth and get to know 'the germ guy', our special guest – Jason Tetro. Jason will join a key panel discussion and host a live Q&A at the Polygiene booth where he guides you through the microscopic universe of clothing and odor generation.

Welcome to the booth (49054-UL) to learn more about durable products and textiles that you can wear more and wash less. Meet you in Denver June 9-11, 2022

Our mission is to change the way we view products, from fast consumables to durables with technologies that enhance the durability and sustainability of products. Polygiene now offers complete gear protection with solutions for both soft and hard surfaces and a number of new technologies to present as well.

Jason Tetro, microbiologist, infection prevention expert and author will be joining Polygiene on his traveling roadshow where he guides you through the microscopic universe of clothing and odor in an educational and fun discussion about germs. Come and join the quiz "Are You Smarter than The Germ Guy?" at our booth 49054-UL to test your knowledge about germs and outdoor equipment for a chance to win amazing prizes.
