Malmö, Sweden, March 11, 2021

New Iberian distributor provides extended service in Spain and Portugal

Polygiene starts a collaboration with new distributor Ravago Chemicals, covering Spain and Portugal. This will be effective during March and will provide a quick and timely service for fabric producers in the area.

“We are very happy to start working with Ravago Chemicals. They will offer a very quick service, direct contact to our fabric partners in the area and best customer support, while still focusing on the added value of an ingredient brand. They will also play an active part in supporting and promoting the Polygiene material partners in the area”, says Trevor Saunders, Technical Director EMEA of Polygiene

“Ravago Chemicals is pleased to start this new partnership with Polygiene. As a market leader in antimicrobial solutions for textiles, combining innovation and sustainability, Polygiene fits perfectly well with our values and our sustainability principles. As Polygiene brings the innovative technology and has a solid presence among global brands, Ravago Chemicals will provide a wide commercial and logistic network with an extensive knowledge and expertise of the textile industry in Iberia. We have full confidence that this valuable collaboration will bring us many new opportunities”, says Manfred Schade, Business Unit Director Specialty Chemicals of Ravago Chemicals.
