

Realheart Returns to Communicating in Both Swedish and English

Press Release, 12 May 2023

Realheart's recently published decision to communicate only in English is reversed. Shareholders and other stakeholders have provided feedback and emphasized the value of having communication in Swedish.

Based on this, Realheart chooses to return to communicating in both languages, as the company wants to meet the needs and wishes of the market. This means that all press releases and reports will continue to be published in both Swedish and English.
