PlanetSide 2 Launches New Major Update

EG7 today announces the launch of Expedition: Oshur, the latest major update in PlanetSide 2, the award-winning massively multiplayer online first-person shooter game currently available on PC and PlayStation 4, and one of EG7's largest own IP:s. The Expedition: Oshur update reveals the lost isles of Oshur, the first water-based continent ever released in the game. Players will discover new tropical, savannah, and coral reef biomes, with 900 combatants waging war by land, air, and sea.

Some of the key features of Expedition: Oshur include two new major facilities, water-based warfare, new campaign missions, and underwater weapons.

For more information, visit the official PlanetSide 2 website.
