Rogue Planet Games launch PlanetSide 2 - Surf & Storm

Rogue Planet Games launch PlanetSide 2 - Surf & Storm on PC, which features the Corsair assault craft, the first proper naval vessel added to PlanetSide 2. This squad-spawnable patrol boat is the faster, sleeker, waterborne counterpart to the Sunderer, with a heavy focus on the necessary logistics to move players around Oshur's island chain quickly.

Passengers aren't just there to ferry back and forth. Each of the five passenger seats has access to the all-new Catapult System, which allows passengers to launch themselves like a cannonball in the direction of their choosing. With a little aim (and a built-in safe landing feature,) you'll be able to land right where the action is taking place, ready to do some damage.

Full details about Surf & Storm's launch on PC can be found on the Rogue Planet Games blog posts here and here. You can also access all assets here.

The Surf & Storm Launch Trailer is available here.

PlanetSide 2, the award-winning massively multiplayer online first-person shooter game is also available on PC.
