

Carl-Johan Zetterberg Boudrie leaves his position as CEO of Careium AB

After just over six years in the company, whereof three years as CEO, Carl-Johan Zetterberg Boudrie has chosen to leave Careium to go a different industry. As CEO, Carl-Johan has led the creation of one of the leading players in technology enabled care in Europe and successfully led the journey of change to become an independent listed company with 900 employees and over 400,000 end users.

"I want to thank Carl-Johan for his strong contribution and wish him best of luck in his future career," says Lennart Jacobsen, Chairman of the Board of Careium.

"I am very pleased with what we have achieved together during my time as CEO. It has been a privilege to lead and develop the business and take Careium to the stock exchange as an independent company. Careium is now well positioned to grow in line with the ambition to become the European market leader in technology enabled care and has a continued exciting journey ahead", says Carl-Johan Zetterberg Boudrie, CEO of Careium.

Carl-Johan will continue in his current role until a successor has been appointed. The search for a successor begins immediately.
