

Careium Appoints Alexander Jubner as Chief Technology Officer

Careium is pleased to announce the appointment of Alexander Jubner as Chief Technology Officer, overseeing R&D, product management, and serving as a member of the Group Management team. Alexander brings extensive experience from his previous role as VP of Engineering and Head of AI at Neonode, a cutting-edge technology company. His educational background includes an M.Sc. in Mathematics and Mechanical Engineering from KTH Royal Institute of Technology. Alexander has also held leadership roles in technology and business development at Etteplan, Scania, and Electrolux before his tenure at Neonode.

"We are thrilled to welcome a leader of Alexander's caliber to Careium," said Christian Walén, President and Group CEO of Careium. "His expertise, leadership, and impressive track record will help ensure that Careium continues to be the most innovative, customer-centric company in our industry. I'm particularly excited to see how Alexander, together with our talented technology and product teams, will drive the development of new services and offerings, especially in the areas of digital care and AI."

Commenting on his appointment, Alexander Jubner stated: "I am excited to join Careium at such a pivotal time in its evolution. The company's dedication to innovation, quality, and improving the lives of seniors across Europe deeply resonates with me. I look forward to collaborating with Careium's talented teams to advance our shared vision and explore new opportunities in digital care and AI, ensuring the company remains at the forefront of the industry."

Christian Walén also expressed gratitude to outgoing CTO Johan Helgertz: "I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to Johan for his outstanding contributions during his tenure. Under his leadership, we reached significant milestones, including the launch of the i-Care platform and the mobile social alarm Abby. His efforts have positioned Careium as a leader in our field."

Alexander Jubner will officially assume his role at Careium by November 10, 2024.
