HANZA signs agreement with SAMON

HANZA AB (publ) signs agreement with SAMON Group AB, a world leading niche provider of gas detection solutions for industrial, commercial, and marine applications. The initial deal amounts to approximately 15 MSEK with the ambition to develop the scope to a larger collaboration.

– We welcome SAMON to HANZA, a very interesting company with an exciting future. We look forward to following their European expansion , whilst delivering in accordance with our All you need is one concept, says Veronica Svensson, Sales Director Scandinavia.

SAMON offers a wide product range for detection of various gases and related control solutions, both on land and on the marine side. The company sees increased demand across all their segments, regulations play a major role for a stable growth.

Comment from SAMON on the business:

– We have high expectations on the business with HANZA, given the production capacity, technical experience and the geographical location. We are looking forward to a fruitful collaboration, says Alexander Larsson, Managing Director of SAMON.

The first deliveries were made during the summer and series production has now started.
